GENERAL INFORMATION
The Journal of Orthopaedics, Trauma Surgery and Related Research medical project is published four times a year, and is also available in electronic form at www.jotsr.com and www.medicalproject.com.pl. The Journal of Orthopaedics, Trauma Surgery and Related Research medical project is an international indexed Index Copernicus.

The editors accept articles in Polish/English or English with summaries and key words in three languages.

Editorial Policy
The Journal of Orthopaedics, Trauma Surgery and Related Research medical project editors endorse the general rules of the Declaration of Helsinki and expect that all investigations involving humans will have been performed in accordance with these principles.

For animal experimentation reported in the journal, it is expected that investigators will have observed the Interdi- sciplinary Principles and Guidelines for the Use of Animals in Research, Testing, and Education issued by the New York Academy of Sciences Adhoc Committee on Animal Research. All human and animal studies must be approved by the investigators Institutional review board. A copy of the relevant documentation should be included with manuscript.

REVIEW PROCESS
Manuscripts are evaluated on the basis that they present new insights to the investigated topic, are likely to contribute to a research progress or change in clinical practice or in thinking about a disease. The signature of the corresponding author on the letter of submission signifies that these conditions have been fulfilled.

Received manuscripts are first examined by the editors. Incomplete packages or manuscripts not prepared in the vernacular of the journal will be returned to authors without scientific review. It can cause to prolong term of acceptance a paper to publishing.

The authors are notified with the reference number upon manuscript registration at the Editorial Office. The regis-tered manuscripts are sent to independent experts for scientific evaluation. Submitted papers are accepted for publication after a positive opinion of the independent reviewers. Manuscripts that are incomplete or not prepa-red in accordance with the Instructions for Authors will also be returned, though in such case they may be resubmitted when corrected.

The registered manuscripts are sent to two qualified re-viewers for scientific evaluation. The evaluation process should not take longer than 6 weeks, but the editors cannot guarantee an editorial decision within any established deadline.

Manuscripts are accepted unconditionally if both reviewers agree that the work should proceed in its present form. If the reviewers disagree or feel that the manuscript should be accepted subject to specific corrections, the editors may decide to send the work to another reviewer or return it to the author for correction. The ultimate decision to accept for publication, accept subject to correction, or reject a work is the prerogative of the editors and cannot be appealed. The editors are not obliged to justify their decision.

Authors submitting a paper or other material for publica-tion in The Journal of Orthopaedics, Trauma Surgery and Related Research medical project are deemed to warrant the originality and proprietorship of the material, and to express consent to its publication. Copyright in papers or other material submitted and qualified for publication becomes the sole property of the The Journal of Ortho-paedics, Trauma Surgery and Related Research medical project. Editorial Office (Publishing House SALVE) and may not be published in whole or in part in other journals or digital media without obtaining the prior written consent of Publishing House SALVE, which will not be unreasonably withheld.

The signature of the first author on the letter of submission signifies that:
- the submitted manuscript is the authors' own work;
- the research results have not been published or sub-mitted for publication elsewhere;
- all the authors named on the title page have consen-ted to the submission of this work for publication in The Journal of Orthopaedics, Trauma Surgery and Re-lated Research medical project.

Once the manuscript has been registered at the Editorial Office, the first author is notified by e-mail giving the reference number for future correspondence.

All correspondence with the authors is conducted exclu-sively by e-mail, the first author's e-mail address is absolutely necessary.

CONFLICT OF INTERESTS
Authors of research articles should disclose at the time of submission any financial arrangement they may have with a company whose product figures prominently in the sub-mitted manuscript. Such information will be held in con-fidence while the paper is under review and will not influ-ence the editorial decision, but if the article is accepted for publication, the editors will usually discuss with the authors the manner in which such information is to be communicated to the reader. Because the essence of reviews and editorials is selection and interpretation of the litera-ture, the Journal expects that authors of such articles will not have any financial interest in a company (or its com-petitors) that makes a product discussed in the article. Journal policy requires that reviewers and editors reveal in a letter to the Editor-in-Chief any relationships that they have that could be construed as causing a conflict of interest with regard to a manuscript under review.

PERMISSIONS
Materials taken from other sources must be accompanied by a written statement from both author and publisher giving permission to the Journal for reproduction. Obtain permission in writing from at least one author of papers still in press, unpublished data, and personal communi-cations.

PATIENTS CONFIDENTIALITY
Changing the details of patients in order to disguise them is a form of data alteration. However authors of clinical papers are obliged to ensure patients privacy rights. Only clinically or scientifically important data are permitted for publication. Therefore, if it is possible to identify a patient from a case report, illustration or paper, The Journal of Orthopaedics, Trauma Surgery and Related Research medi-cal project editors ask for a written consent of the patient to publish their data, including photograms prior to pu- blication.

The description of race, ethnicity or culture of a study subject should occur only when it is believed to be of strong influence on the medical condition in the study. When categorizing by race, ethnicity or culture, the names should be as illustrative as possible and reflect how these groups were assigned.

DISCLAIMER
Every effort is made by the Publisher and Editorial Board to see that no inaccurate or misleading data, opinion or statement appear. However, they wish to make it clear that the data and opinions appearing in the articles and ad-versements herein are the responsibility of the contri-butor, sponsor or advertiser concerned.

Accordingly, the Publisher and Editorial Board accept no liability whatsoever for the consequences of any such inaccurate or misleading data, opinion or statement.

The editors advise all readers to apply methods and tech-niques involving drug usage and other treatment proce-dures described in The Journal of Orthopaedics, Trauma Surgery and Related Research medical project. In complian-cy with the recommendations and instructions of the drug or equipment manufacturer as published in the reader's own country.

The author(s) also agree(s), if and when the manuscript is accepted for publication, to automatic and free transfer of copyright to the Publisher allowing for publication and distribution of the material submitted in all available forms and fields of exploitation (in accord with article 50 of the copyright act and related rights, including multimedia and distribu-tion through telematic networks). The author(s) accep-t that the manuscript will not be published elsewhere in any language without the written consent of the copy-right holder, i.e. the Publisher.

CATEGORIES OF ARTICLES
Manuscripts submitted for possible publication should be clearly identified as being intended for publication in one of the following categories:
INSTRUCTIONS FOR AUTHORS

The following instructions are in general compliance with the Uniform Requirements for Manuscripts Submitted to Biomedical Journals (N Eng J Med 1997;336:105-15; www.acponline.org/journals/resource/uniform.htm).

Manuscripts should be submitted in two identical copies, with a cover letter including all authors’ consent for publication of results of their studies and a statement that the data have not been published elsewhere, entirely or in part, in any other medical journal. Manuscripts should be typed on A4 page format, double-spaced, using a 12-point type (e.g. Arial or Times New Roman). The left margin should be 4 cm, all others - 2.5 cm (except the first page).

ABSTRACTS

Provide on a separate page an abstract of not more than 300 words. Articles containing original data should include a structured abstract with the following four paragraphs, labeled: Background, Methods, Results and Conclusions. The abstract should be followed by a list of 3-10 keywords, labeled: Background, Methods, Results, Conclusions. The abstract should be structured in a manner consistent with the International System of Units (SI). Alternate or non-SI units should be added parenthetically.

ABBREVIATIONS AND SYMBOLS

Abbreviations and symbols are acceptable only when standard. Abbreviations should not be used in the title or abstract. The full term for which an abbreviation stands should precede its first use in the text, unless it is a standard unit of measurement.

TEXT ON A DISKETTE

All manuscripts submitted should be accompanied by a covering letter including signed confirmation that:
- Authors have not published or submitted elsewhere as defined earlier in this document;
- Manuscript has been approved by all authors (if any), as well as by the responsible authorities at the institution where the work has been carried out;
- Author(s) agree to the automatic and free copyright transfer to the Publisher, if and when the work is accepted for publication;
- All sources of financial support have been fully disclosed;
- Author(s) confirm that (i) the figures are professionally prepared and clearly identified in terms of the author’s permission;
- Figures should be submitted electronically to salvador@journals.or.kr or on a disk (CD or zip) and send to Salvage Publishing House address. Allowable formats for submissions are PDF, TIFF or EPS with resolution 200 dpi.
